

Upcoming Training Courses

International Commercial Arbitration Training Course

Stage I

November 2007

Due to widespread demand, we will be repeating Stage I on International Commercial Arbitration Training Course in November 2007. This course will once again be delivered by lecturers from King's College and other ADR professionals from the DIAC Board of Trustees. In addition to this, another special course will also be run in "Professional Arbitration in the Construction Contracts" with this course. Both courses will aim to expand the participants' knowledge in the field of commercial arbitration and further contribute towards their self development in becoming a prospective arbitrator or expert witness. Participants will also be given the added opportunity to meet and interact with professionals from various fields and jurisdictions.

