

International Commercial Arbitration

Training Courses Report

13th - 15th April 2008

Organized by:

Dubai International Arbitration Centre (DIAC) in association with Kings College London & the Lebanese University in Lebanon.

Venue:

Dubai Chamber of Commerce Building

Summary:

The Dubai International Arbitration Centre (DIAC) is at the forefront to provide world-class training on commercial arbitration in Dubai. A rapidly growing economy such as the one in the UAE must have skilled commercial arbitrators of international standard to handle commercial disputes. The DIAC training programs were hence developed to help such practitioners learn international standards, techniques and principles that would then qualify them as capable of taking on international commercial disputes.

We train professionals to effectively and fairly handle commercial arbitration cases. DIAC has indirectly aided the UAE by reducing the number of commercial disputes that go to courts.

The DIAC training programs were designed in partnership with the Lebanese University in Lebanon and the King's College in the United Kingdom, and aim to provide courses to all levels of arbitrators, in both Arabic and English. The faculties from these two prestigious institutions are highly experienced in commercial arbitration and also bring with them the knowledge of utilizing modern techniques and technology in arbitration processes. They are:

English Training Course Speakers:

- Prof. Martin Hunter (Chairman of DIAC Board of Trustees, King's College London and Barrister, Essex Court Chambers (London)).